SCHOOL FURNITURE SALE Tuesday at McKinley School attracted a large crowd that waded through rooms filled to their ceilings with desks, chairs, office equipment, bulletin boards and many other items. Some of the items were brought to the school from Stallings and Washington Schools, which were closed at the end of the 1978-79 school year along with McKinley. The Granite City School District sold the used furniture all day; over 25 people were on hand when the doors were opened, and others arrived later. Garland Horn (photo at right) of 23 Tracy Lane has the world on his shoulder shortly after purchasing a world globe, one of two available, for only $1. Sales for the day totaled $4,532, and only children's desks remained after the sale. No plans have yet been made for their disposal.

Depot use is nearer

Settlement of a dispute between two federal agencies over the duration of use restrictions on federal surplus lands conveyed to states or local agencies may clear the way for acquisition of the 34-acre sewage treatment plant site by the City of Granite City.

Large tracts of Army Installation land also are being sought by Granite City, Madison, Venice, the Tri-City Regional Port District and possibly Madison and Venice schools.

Granite City council members were notified during their regular meeting Tuesday night that the disagreement between the General Services Administration (GSA) and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) has been arbitrated by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) with a resulting decision that a 30-year use restriction should prevail for conveyed lands.

In a letter from the OMB, Granite City aldermen were told: "After review of this matter and considering public comment, it is OMB's view that the 30-year restriction should be maintained and we have so advised both HEW and GSA."

The 30-year restriction approved by OMB will require that states or local agencies which are given surplus federal land for health and educational purposes continue such use for a minimum of 30 years, rather than "forever."

At the time the dispute arose over the duration of such a restriction, Granite City, Madison, Venice and the Port District were involved in moves to acquire tracts of the Army Installation land. They seek approximately the southern third of the big base, whose functions now include serving as the housing and supply center for Department of Defense personnel assigned to the St. Louis metropolitan area for training or duty.

Sewer fee crackdown

By HARRY BARNES

of the Press-Record

Madison and Venice residents who owe a total of $68,946 in delinquent sewage treatment fees to the Metropolitan Sanitary District will have their home sewers disconnected if they don't pay up their bills by Aug. 30.

That decision was announced Tuesday by Cleophus Carr, district office manager, who said a resolution approved by the sanitary district board of trustees authorizes sewer disconnections for all delinquent sewer users served by the district's Lansdowne sewage treatment plant.

"Carr said that the district has been forced to resort to bank loans to meet payrolls and generally is short of revenue to carry out its operations."

"We need this money to meet operating costs," he said, adding "If you don't pay your water bill, they shut off the water. If you don't pay your gas bill, they shut off the gas."

"In this instance we are forced to discontinue the sewer service if the people can't pay their bills."

Carr said the order to disconnect residential sewers after Aug. 30 will become effective for all home occupants whose treatment bills are more than 90 days delinquent at that time. This means, he explained, that sewer users have until Aug. 30 to pay up all delinquencies of more than 90 days. The order involves a total delinquency of $255,105 in fees that are more than 90 days delinquent. The total charges now on the books for all of the district is $351,104, Carr said.

Damage by wind funnel

By PAT FOLEY

of the Press-Record

A whirlwind caused by series of atmospheric conditions did extensive damage to the roof at the east corner of the Marion J. Stamps Sewer and Pipe Cleaning Co. building, 1501 Grand Ave., shortly after 2 p.m. Wednesday.

The powerful wind funnel lifted a section of roofing from the structure. Insulation material was strewn over the company's parking lot, 15th Street and Grand Avenue.

While police officers were taking the initial report of the incident, a second funnel was observed.

This second dust funnel was also observed by two Press-Record employees northwest of the touchdown point over NL Industries, Inc., north of State Street, but the whirlwind quickly dissipated after the sighting.

Some of those who first observed the whirlwind thought it was a small tornado, but the atmospheric conditions present were not suitable for such storm activity.

A whirlwind is a circular or spiral column of air caused by the sudden rising of an overheated layer of air near the ground.

Very high temperatures near ground level are optimum for the phenomena to take place, as was the case Wednesday, when it was both hot and humid.

The whirlwind was visible due to sand and dust carried by it from the ground.

In the West, such winds often are referred to as "dust devils."

Mall revival?

A suggestion that Granite City revive a plan to build a downtown shopping mall as a means of beautifying the area and developing business was made to the City Council Tuesday night.

The proposal came from Alderman Paul Fisk of the Third Ward who said he believed the plan should be revived because construction of the downtown overpass is now assured, and that the two projects would go hand in hand in building up the area, both from a viewpoint of business and appearances.

"I believe the project should be looked into," Fisk said. He noted that "Development of a downtown mall should help build up business as well as beauty the downtown area."

"Certainly some of the businessmen would be interested in this."

Mayor Paul Schuler noted the idea of reviving the mall project "is a good one," and suggested that the council's downtown committee confer with businessmen who might be interested and determine if there is enough interest to proceed with the matter.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward said he would convey the suggestion to Mrs. Margaret Nonn, chairman of the downtown committee who was absent at Tuesday night's meeting. Mrs. Nonn, Bailey and Alderman Charles Douglas are members of the downtown committee, with Mrs. Nonn as chairman.

The mall project was designed in the early 1970s. It provided improving and widening abutting sidewalks on 19th Street from Niedringhaus Avenue to State Street and the creation of "on street" parking spaces with angle parking.

The program also called for changes in curbsides and the planting of trees and shrubs. Also planned was the installation of serpentine streets and the widening of pedestrian travelways on Niedringhaus from 20th to 19th streets, with changes in curbs and sidewalks for control, access and parking.

Cost was estimated at $250,000.

The project was placed under control of a Board of Local Improvements which would have financed the project with special assessments paid by owners of property located along the streets included in the plan.

Opposition developed at several public hearings required in connection with the financing and the project eventually as dropped.

Plimpton, Mitty not only ones who dream

PART ONE
By CATHEY JAMISON
of the Press-Record

Most of us have a dream, something that we have wished to do all of our lives and never did, for one reason or another.

Dwelling on things that we might have done often sustains us when everyday life gets a little too dull. Time spent on dreams—or secret desires, if you will—can be very pleasant. In the busy workaday world, many of us never get a chance to make "what might have been" a reality. I intend to do just that.

I have always wanted to sing with a rock band. Since childhood, I have sung along with the record, hoping that someday someone would provide an avenue by which I could be on stage and be a part of the music I love.

I never got the chance to try it, for many reasons. Or, perhaps, excuses is a better word.

I was too busy raising a family, earning a living, and telling myself that I couldn't do it anyway—not good enough. I have continued to sing with the record, but until recently, an actual public appearance remained only a dream.

Secretaries host state president

The Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries Association International held its August dinner meeting at Rousto's Restaurant in Collinsville. Seventeen members and five guests were present. Illinois Division President Mrs. Maurine Stumpf, Rantoul, and Mrs. Rose Tetenhorst of the St. Louis Chapter presented the program, emphasizing "Membership." They told how secretaries can benefit from becoming more active NSA members and how each can help the membership to increase. The meeting was called to order by President Charlie Vunovic, CPS. Varied reports were given. It was noted that anyone wishing to attend the Sept. 6 meeting is welcome. The program will include a "boss panel" at Charlie's Restaurant at 8:30 p.m. The service committee chairman accepting reservations until Sept. 4 is Helen Geisselmann, 451-9880.

$11,830 in fines are received here

Fines totaling $11,830 have been distributed to the Quad-City area by Madison County Circuit Clerk Willard V. "Butch" Portell from fines collected in Madison County Circuit Court during July. Distributions here included $9,335 to Granite City; $1,115 to Madison; $85 to Venice and $1,295 to Pontoon Beach, Portell reported. Alton headed the list of cities in fines received with $2,329, far above its average. Alton and Granite City have alternated the lead for the most fines collected for the past year. Of the $131,741 in fines received during July, $37,055 went to the county government, $29,776 was distributed to the state for overweight trucks, the Department of Conservation received $430 and the Illinois Commerce Commission was given $124 in fine money.

WORKER ARRESTED

Gregory C. Woelfel, 23, Alton, was arrested at Kirkpatrick Homes at 2:15 p.m. Tuesday and was charged with battery. It is alleged Woelfel was installing new windows for the housing authority and juveniles were playing near his tools. He told police he was waving a group of boys away when the pliers he was holding struck one of them. The boy's father signed the complaint. Woelfel was released on $35 cash bond.

IRONWORKER SUES

James Carey Carpenter has filed a $125,000 lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court against S.M. Wilson & Co. of Granite City as the result of injuries Carpenter suffered July 5 while working on the Madison County Jail. The suit contends Carpenter, an ironworker, was working for a subcontractor putting in jail cells and fixtures and he twisted his leg on the job. Wilson is the general contractor for the county jail project.

Crossing repair due

The Illinois Terminal Railroad Company (ITR) informed the Madison County Council Tuesday night that crossing work on Madison Avenue, between 13th and 14th streets, will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 4.

1 ticket left for Nashville

The Granite City Park District has one ticket left for the trip to the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn., on Friday, Aug. 24. The trip includes a day at Opryland, a performance of the Grand Ole Opry and other side excursions.

The cost of the trip is $25 for transportation, $5 for the trip ticket and $43.60 for motel accommodation for two nights. Further details may be obtained at the Wilson Park office, or by calling 877-3059.

The southbound lanes will be reopened the evening of Sept. 6, according to the ITR.

On Monday, Sept. 10, the northbound lanes of highway traffic will be closed for three days and two nights, with the work being completed Wednesday evening, Sept. 12.

Second Ward Alderman William Gushleff said, "I would like to see something done about the property at 1659 Market St. Frank (Dukko) and I went over there and the house is burned out with no hope of repair. The weeds all around it are high and it is attracting children and undesirables. I feel we need to do something before someone gets hurt."

Mayor Mike Saayk asked the legal department to take action.

Madison Police Chief Donald L. Bridick announced to the council that Richard Asperger finished his police basic training with the highest academic score in his class.

Bridick said, "We are very proud to have Rich on the department. He will be an asset to both the city and our department."

Rail track replacement

The Illinois Terminal Railroad Co. plans to replace most of its present rails on the lines north of Granite City, a project that will require the closing of a number of roads on several different occasions to complete installation, city officials were informed at a City Council session Tuesday night.

The rail replacement plans still are being finalized in negotiations with the Illinois Department of Transportation for a number of the road closings that will be necessary to lay what is termed a continuous welded rail in lengths of 200 or more feet, City Engineer Monroe Brewer said.

The City Council approved a request by the Illinois Terminal for closing Pontoon Road and Nameoki Drive in Granite City. The rail replacement will start at the A. O. Smith plant and continue northward through parts of Chouteau Township and into Hartford and Wood River. Actual dates and times of the road closings have not yet been determined.

In addition to Pontoon Road and Nameoki Drive in Granite City, the work will involve road closings at St. Thomas Road (Old U.S. 66) and St. Thomas Road, Route 203 (off Route 3) in Chouteau Township.

Other Chouteau Township road closings will involve, Schaffer, Thorngate, Franco Road, Oldenburg Road, South Canal Road and North Canal Road, and one private road crossing. Others scheduled for closing are the gate crossings at Continental Oil Co., two gate crossings at Cherokee Pipe Line Co., two field crossings, gate crossings at Hartford Terminal Co. and Union Electric Co., all road crossings in the village of Hartford and Evans avenue and Ferguson Avenue in Wood River.

The roadways would be closed to the users on four separate occasions. The first closing will be for one-half day to cut two trenches, one on each side of the tracks, the width of the roadway. Two ties will be placed in the bottom of each trench, the width of the roadway, and rock dumped over the ties to the top of each trench. The level of the rock will be maintained to prevent hazard to the roadway users, a company spokesman said.

The second closing of the road will also be for one-half day to allow the trenches to be reopened while the rail train deposits rail into the trenches. The trenches will then be closed.

The third closing of the road will be for one full day to allow the railroad to remove the rail from the trenches and relay in the track roadbed one side at a time (either the east or west rail).

A fourth crossing of the road for one full day will be necessary to relay the rail not relayed. Actual relaying of the rail is not scheduled until the middle of September 1979.

This relay project is starting from the mainline switch on the A&E mainline at the A. O. Smith plant in Granite City, to the IT Junction just north of Ferguson Avenue in Wood River.

The starting date has not been finalized as yet. However, 48 hours notice will be given to all parties concerned prior to the start of any work. There will be approximately a one- to two-week interval between the times trenches are dug and reopened to receive the rail from the rail train. The railroad has contacted and received permission to close roadways where they apply from the various cities and townships; namely, Granite City, Chouteau Township, John Beirne, chief engineer, said that the Village of Hartford will concur with permission to close the roads in the village.

The city of Wood River also has given permission to close the roads affected by the rail relay project.

As the various road crossings are completed, the company will repair the roadway where trenches have been cut, the spokesman said.

International language is to be taught

The School of Humanities at SIUE will offer a humanities honors course in Esperanto, a language which is being developed as an international language, during the 1979-80 academic year.

Esperanto (HUM 301-4) will be offered on an experimental basis for three quarters, beginning with the fall quarter. Classes will meet Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 until 10:20 a.m. Class format will consist of lectures and oral drills so that students may learn the fundamental principles of Esperanto grammar and be able to speak, read and write the language as well as possible.

Several attempts have been made to make Esperanto an international language, since it is a language not directly connected to a single country. Studies have shown that Esperanto takes only one-fifth to one-tenth the time needed to learn any national or ethnic tongue.

The language has 16 grammatical rules that can be learned in a few hours and is based primarily on words that are common to the chief European languages, including words taken from English, German, Italian, Latin, French, Polish, Greek and Russian.

"Most languages take three or four years of concentration to master," Rino Cassanelli of the SIUE department of foreign languages and literature (892-3510) said. "An average student can learn to speak, read and write Esperanto in less than a year," he added.

Dating back to 1887, the language appears in at least 73 dictionaries and is taught in nearly 600 schools in 31 countries, Cassanelli said. The Bible, Koran, and the works of Mao Tse-tung have been translated into Esperanto.

It has been estimated that there are over one million people around the world who speak the language, with large concentrations in Europe, South America and Asia.

Various governments and private organizations use the language for special purposes, he said.

Qualifications for enrollment in the honors course are at least a 4.25 grade point average and the permission of the instructor.

Peak, total demand set Ill. Power records; heat strains Midwest electric power supply

Illinois Power Company's total one-day kilowatt hour sales reached a new level Tuesday, and a new peak demand for electricity was established for the second consecutive day, it was determined Wednesday afternoon.

The kilowatt-hour sales record established was 3.1 percent higher than the amount sold on any previous day, according to Larry Idelman, manager of energy supply for the company.

Tuesday's figure was 56,744,599 kilowatt hours (Kwh). The previous all-time high was 56,977,300 Kwh, reached on July 15, 1977.

At 3 p.m. on Tuesday and again at 6 p.m., the peak demand for electricity reached 3,009,150 kilowatts. This exceeded Monday's demand of 2,958,350 kilowatts, the highest demand since the summer of 1977. Tuesday's demand was 5.7 percent higher than the 1977 record peak demand.

Idelman said the company was able to meet Tuesday's record demand and maintain service to interruptible customers.

"Company personnel worked overnight Monday to restore to service some generating units which had not been available for use on Monday," he said.

Idelman also said the company used nearly 50,000 tons of Illinois coal to generate electricity during the past two days' peak demands.

He said Monday's peak demand was reached between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. That demand was 3.9 percent higher than the demand of 2,846,260 kilowatts reached on July 15, 1977. Last summer's peak was 2,825,010 kilowatts, reached on Sept. 19.

Idelman said temperatures throughout much of the 15,000 square miles served by Illinois Power were extremely high this week, ranging from low to mid and upper 90 degrees.

"This is the first time this year such high temperatures were experienced over the bulk of our system," he commented.

Service to several industrial customers was curtailed during Monday's peak demand period so that the company could maintain a proper capability reserve margin. These customers receive electricity under a rate classification that allows them to be interrupted in such circumstances.

The supply of electricity in the entire Midwest region was "very short" Monday, Idelman said.

STUCK ON HEAD
Ricky Nelson, 18, of 2164 Lee Ave., was taken by Granite City police to St. Elizabeth Medical Center during the weekend after he was struck on the head and left eye during a disturbance. He was X-rayed and was released.

Nolan named aide

Dave J. Nolan, an engineer technician with the Granite City Engineering Department, was appointed Tuesday night as administrative aide to Mayor Paul Schulz and the City Council.

His appointment came after a surprise resignation of the aide said position since September 1978.

Taylor told the aldermen he has been recalled into service as a United States Air Force pilot and will leave here Aug. 17 for Dyess AFB at Abilene, Tex., where he is to be assigned as a B52 aircraft commander.

Taylor's resignation was accepted with regrets and virtually all of the aldermen spoke to commend Taylor on the work he has done in developing budgeting procedure, handling federal grant projects and coordinating a number of city developments.

The resignation was accepted on a motion by Alderman Warren Decatur who remarked, "I hate to see him go. He has been a real worker and a big help to the city."

Alderman Schuman Jr., said, "I second those comments. Taylor has made our job easier."

Glen Sprankle, alderman of Ward Four, described Taylor's work with the city as "fantastic" and said he regretted to see the aide leave "a job in which he has done such excellent work."

The aide's resignation was followed by Mayor Schulz's appointment of Nolan whom, the mayor said, "is highly qualified for the job." He noted Nolan is now working on his master's degree in business administration and cited work he has done for the city.

Council members concurred without exception in Nolan's appointment. Alderman Charles Douglas said the choice of Nolan was "excellent."

Taylor was discharged as a captain in the U.S. Air Force in 1975 after earning his commission in 1970. He was employed three years by Madison County as a county planner before coming to Granite City as administrative aide.

The post pays $17,000 per year. Nolan is a native and lifelong resident of Granite City and was elected in April as a member of the Granite City Park Board.

He was employed by the park district for seven years, starting as a lifeguard at the Wilson Park pool in 1969.

He joined the city engineering department in July 1976, and was assigned tasks of surveying, inspection, drafting and operating in a supervisory capacity.

He served as project coordinator for construction of the new Granite City police building.

Nolan is expected to assume his new duties immediately. Mayor Schulz said that since Taylor is leaving Aug. 17, there still is some time in which he can brief Nolan on city projects and achieve a smooth transition.

DAVE NOLAN
New Mayor's aide

Mrs. Hertha Deming dies

Mrs. Hertha E. Deming, 75, of 1804 Ferguson Ave., was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 11:48 a.m. Wednesday.

She was taken to the hospital center by ambulance after she suddenly became ill at home.

Born in Cimmichau, Germany, Mrs. Deming resided in Granite City for 10 years. Previously, she lived in Brooklyn, N.Y.

She had retired in 1967 after having been employed 24 years as a restaurant manager by F. W. Woolworth Co. in the Brooklyn area.

Mrs. Deming was a member of the Word of Life Tabernacle.

She succumbed to death by a son, Howard Martin, in 1973.

Surviving are her husband, Lloyd V. Deming; a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Dorothy) Little of Granite City; a sister, Mrs. Ella Gamble of Parrish, N.Y.; one brother, Eddie Martin of Syracuse, N.Y.; and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

Mrs. Molly Brown, 83, dies

Mrs. Molly (Weaver) Brown, 83, of 2546 Hemlock Ave., died at 6:42 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she had been taken by ambulance from home about two hours earlier.

She had been ill of a heart ailment for about five years and was hospitalized recently.

Mrs. Brown was born in Bethalto, but resided in the Granite City area almost her entire life.

She and her husband,

Ernest, who survives, observed the 66th anniversary of their marriage on July 18.

In addition to her husband, Ernest, Mrs. Brown is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Leo (Hazel) Devilliss of Herndon, Iowa; and a brother, Roy Weaver of Granite City.

Funeral arrangements are pending. Available information is given in the obituary column.

Melvin Shellmann, 57, dies

Melvin R. Shellmann, 57, of 2130 Grand Ave., died at 7 a.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He had been ill the past five weeks and was hospitalized for the same period of time.

Mr. Shellmann was a U.S. Marine Corps veteran of World War II and a member of the American Legion.

He was employed as a bartender for the last 10 years at the Ingleside Tavern.

A native of Trendell, Ind., Mr. Shellmann resided here

16 years. Previously, he lived in Indiana.

He is survived by two daughters, two brothers and a sister and his father, Clarence Haskell Shellmann. Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

1978 HONDA STOLEN
Robert L. Pritchard, 3004 Wayne Ave., reported at 5:45 p.m. Monday that his 1978 yellow Honda 50cc was stolen from Eddie's Lounge, 2900 Nameki Road. The machine was locked, he said.

years, it was the site of busy processing, storage and shipping activities by thousands of civilians and soldiers.

Decisions made public this week indicate that the municipality will get title to the treatment plant property, saving yearly rent costs, and that the Illinois Transportation Department will receive ownership of a narrow strip of land on which Ill. Route Three is situated.

There were no developments this week on industrial park plans.

In June 1978, the three cities filed letters of intent to acquire approximately 286 acres of Army installation land that contained 17 buildings with 1.5 million square feet of space, including open and closed warehouses and other structures.

Madison and Venice school districts also expressed interest in filling for coneyances.

Granite City meanwhile filed its application for a 34-acre tract on which the city's sewage treatment plant is located. Transfer of that tract to Granite City "appeared certain" at the time the restriction dispute developed and tied up further progress in plans to acquire the land.

Mayor Paul Schulz told the council Tuesday night that resolving the restriction dispute "should clear the way for us to get this land," leased since 1969.

He noted that acquisition of the land on which the treatment plant is located would save the city at least $6,000 a year, the amount the city pays the government under a lease for use of the property.

While there is little visible progress toward either the port or cities obtaining Depot buildings for light manufacturing, fabricating and warehouse—creating additional jobs for Quad-Cityans—it was learned Wednesday that related "paper work" is continuing.

An example is the obtaining of written verification that an Army reserve unit no longer depends on a specific structure for its training purposes.

A formal declaration that about 350 acres of the military base is surplus and available for purchase by governmental bodies was issued in 1977.

A recommendation on the 286 acres wanted for establishment of an industrial park was sent by the GSA to Chicago to its Real Property Division in Washington, where analysis and processing continue.

A 40-acre triangular site with roadway also is to be offered in the future. No prospective buyers have been recorded at this point.

The Lansdowne sewage treatment plant handles primary treatment only for these areas. Venice and Madison are the only two communities served by that plant. All of the other communities and areas served are in St. Clair County.

The sanitary district has been cited on several occasions by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency for its failure to install secondary sewage treatment facilities.

As a result, district trustees have proposed a plan under which the Lansdowne plant would discharge the sewage into a line that would convey it to the Granite City plant or the Army installation grounds for secondary treatment.

This plan has met mixed feelings by Granite City Council members, some of whom have expressed willingness to serve Madison and Venice sewer users, but oppose handling the effluent from any St. Clair County portion of the district.

I decided that I would attempt to make my own secret ambition become a reality in order that those of you who dream can share in my experience.

'Let service light the way' is Rotary theme

"Let Service Light the Way" is the 1979-80 theme of Rotary International, according to Rotary District 646 Governor Stephen N. Ferri.

Ferri, who assumed his office July 1, was the guest speaker at the Wednesday noon meeting of the Madison-Venice Rotary Club at the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets, Madison.

He urged club members to become more involved in club activities.

"In 1956-57 this club was the 'Club of the Year' in the district and it can be again if the members get involved. I hope you repeat that distinction this year," Ferri said.

He noted the M-V club membership was 34 and urged the club to recruit new members.

"Rotary is not just for the doctors and lawyers. Rotary is for all men earning an honest living. I want to urge the members to look around. You all have friends that should be Rotarians."

"The more members you have the better you can serve your community. I think the Rotary Club should spotlight problems in the community, bring them out into the open and then help find solutions to these problems," Ferri said.

Gov. Ferri announced that the District 646 Rotary Convention will be April 18, 19 and 20 in Peoria and encouraged attendance by the M-V club members.

Ferri is a senior active member of the East Peoria Rotary Club.

He retired in 1977 from the Georgia Pacific Company. District 646 has 49 clubs in west central Illinois, ranging in size from 10 to 298 members, with a total district membership of over 2,800.

Rotary International has clubs in 133 countries, with a membership in excess of 850,000 in 18,256 clubs.

Rotarian Frank Kierski, vice-president of the M-V club introduced the speaker.

Release of $152,000 in planning funds for a new multi-purpose, physical education, recreation and athletic facility at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been applauded by Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, sponsor of the legislation appropriating the funds.

"The decision to release came from the Illinois Capital Development Board."

"Releasing these funds means that the project can proceed on schedule, in terms of the agreement made by the governor," Vadalabene noted. "Now that a site has been selected and preliminary design work has been done, the first phase has been completed."

"The definitive design phase of the planning process is crucial," Sen. Vadalabene continued. "I have been assured by the university officials that every effort will be made to produce the most energy-efficient building possible. I hope that all will cooperate to make this a major priority."

According to Vadalabene, additional funds will be released later this year, so that the university will be able to plan all the way to the construction phase.

He indicated that he has commitments from the leadership in both houses that construction funds will be a major priority in the coming session.

"This long overdue project is moving right along," Vadalabene concluded. "I see no reason why the university will not have this desperately needed facility in the not too distant future."

Course in tax preparation

H&R Block, Inc., which maintains offices in Granite City and Madison, will conduct another course in tax form preparation this fall, the company announced Tuesday.

The $80 fee will include the cost of textbooks, reference materials, tax form supplies, registration and tuition. For more information Quad-Cityans may call 235-4470.

Heat invades medical center as switchover cuts cooling units

It was uncomfortably warm in St. Elizabeth Medical Center during the weekend when all air conditioning was turned off at 4 p.m. Friday to the system into the new boiler plant.

The procedure, handled by a construction firm, was expected to take about 24 hours, but some areas of the hospital complex were still without air conditioning Tuesday.

The final areas to be linked up were the lab section and the pharmacy.

Unfortunately, since Friday, temperatures have held to a fairly steady level—hovering between the mid 80s and low 90s.

"The total tie-in operation apparently took longer than was anticipated," a spokesman for the medical center said Wednesday.

Air conditioning in most of the patient areas was resumed Sunday.

Sixth Floor in the Doctor's Wing was the last patient area to gain relief from the "in-hospital heat wave."

Cool air started filtering through the air conditioning vents Monday, but then ceased for several hours, came back again and then off once more until normal service resumed Tuesday. Patients were advised about the air conditioning tie-in project Friday morning and received the same notification on their meal trays Saturday.

Fans and other auxiliary units were used in sensitive areas of the medical center, where high temperatures and excessive humidity could cause damage, it was learned.

The entire operation was timed to take place late at night and in the early part of the day, but it didn't quite work out that way, the spokesman commented.

The construction crew agreed to work during the night hours to help reduce any discomfort to patients, she added.

Relatives of many patients went home during visiting hours only to return a short time later carrying additional fans, it was learned.

The Binney Wing of the medical center was not affected by the air conditioning outage.

Silver Dollar City excursion

The Granite City Park District's annual weekend excursion to Silver Dollar City will take place Sept. 21 to Sept. 23, with reservations being accepted starting at 9 a.m. Friday at the Wilson Park office.

Reservations are limited to 41 persons and the cost of the overall trip will be determined by the number of persons occupying a motel room at the Bentree Lodge. The lodge is located one mile from Silver Dollar City on Table Rock Lake.

The chartered bus will depart from the Wilson Park Ice Rink parking area at 8 a.m. Friday, Sept. 21.

Bus transportation costs $25 per person and the room fees range from $29.50 per night for one person to a room to $8.90 per night for four persons to a room.

Both the bus fee and motel charges must be paid at the time the reservations are taken.

Additional side trips will be available to the excursionists and may be paid for at the time they are taken.

The local group will board the Zebulon Pike, an excursion boat, for a cruise of Table Rock Lake on Friday evening, Sept. 21.

After dinner, a visit to the Sawmill Theater for a country-western show is planned.

Saturday, Sept. 22, will be spent in Silver Dollar City where the popular Craft Festival will be in session.

About 5 p.m. Saturday, the group will travel the short distance into Branson for a variety show presented by the Foggy River Boys.

On Sunday morning, a tour will be made of several interesting spots in the area, such as the School of the Ozarks and the Doll House Shop, located in the Hollister, Mo., area.

Lunch will be in Springfield, Mo., and about 1 p.m. Sunday, the local group will board the bus for the return trip.

Local residents wishing to participate in the weekend excursion are being urged to make their reservations as soon as possible.

Neighbors saw a woman removing washed clothes valued at $61, from a line outside the home of Mrs. Shirley Beavans, 4101 Kirkpatrick Homes, at 2:25 a.m. Tuesday.

Stolen were 16 towels, worth $50, eight pairs of jeans, $100, two T-shirts, $5, and six washcloths, $6.

New Foundation leader; Stack elected to board

By MILDRED ARNOLD
If the positive attitude of Rayhill Hagist of Highland, newly-elected president of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Foundation, is a good weather-vane, the not-for-profit SIUE organization may be in for a healthy, productive climate.

President of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Highland since January 1976, Hagist succeeds J. Fischer Sr. of Belleville as president of the foundation.

"With the continued support of Jul and our new vice president and treasurer, John Hunter Sr., president of the Bank of Edwardsville, and other board members, I'm looking forward to a productive two-year term," Hagist said.

"Our board is receiving additional strength with the election of eight new and extremely capable board members. All we need is to harness some of that talent and energy for SIUE."

The new board members are James F. Barton Jr., Edwardsville, president of J. F. Barton Construction Co.; E. L. Deshong, Godfrey, director of administration, Olin Corp.; Don Gehrig, Alhambra, vice president and secretary, Gehrig Store Co.; K. Lewis Gilbert, Godfrey, Gilbert's Carriage House, Inc.; Bob Hardy, St. Louis radio station KNOX commentator; Ralph Korte, chairman of the board of the Highland-based Korte Construction Co.; Raymond C. Lippert, Belleville, Lippert Brick Contracting Co., Inc.; and James V. Stack, St. Louis, Granite City Steel president.

"With these new board members and those re-elected or serving unexpired terms, we have a great team," Hagist said.

Other elected board members include C. Kenneth Anderson and Carl H. Basler, Highland; William S. Badgley, Belleville; Gail Buenger, Harold R. Fischer and Mrs. G. H. (Ruth) Sternberg, Granite City; Mrs. Maurice (Judy) Dailey, Mrs. Thomas (Lenora) Leffler, R. W. Poes, Mrs. Charles (Betty Lou) Schmidt, Russell Solomon and Charles J. Tosovsky, Edwardsville.

And Russell Fairburn, Lebanon; L. Thomas Lakin, East Alton; James Massa, Collinsville; Fredericka Nash, East St. Louis; Mrs. Ben (Glady) Ober, Centralia; A. Kent Reed and Mrs. Jack (Laraine) Rowse, Alton.

"Every spectrum of business and industry is represented," Hagist noted. "Our goal is to alert individuals and corporations to SIUE's role in this region, not only educating thousands of students yearly who come from nearly every state in the Union and more than 30 foreign countries, but its economic force as well."

"A survey showed that last year in Madison County alone, 1,893 SIUE employees received a combined total of $21,442,481 in wages and an additional 1,424 student workers were paid $1,683,944."

"Many SIUE graduates are employed by large corporations which can provide matching gifts to the university through the foundation," said the new president. "It is a fallacy to believe that private higher education can be financed solely with public funds. Today, both private and public higher education depend on private and public support."

"During the next two or three years, we are going to concentrate on getting more individuals and corporations interested in supporting SIUE and carry the word that the private money makes the difference in whether we have an excellent university or not. "We're going to point out that it isn't necessary to go to Chicago or out of state for seminars to improve our knowledge in special fields. These opportunities are right here on our own doorsteps—SIUE."

"Those on fixed incomes may not be able to increase the sizes of their annual gifts to the SIUE Foundation and these gifts are certainly needed and welcomed—but the hard, cold facts tell us those of us who can must continue to increase the size of our gifts if we are to successfully combat today's greatest enemy, inflation."

Hagist pointed out that the SIUE Foundation didn't gain full independence until July 1, 1977.

"While we realized a million dollars in contributions during the 15 years we were an arm of the Carbondale corporation, we have raised more than one-third that amount since becoming autonomous two years ago."

The SIUE Foundation was organized in 1942 at Carbondale to administer gifts for charitable and educational purposes and to act without profit as the trustee of educational or charitable trusts.

In October 1973, new bylaws decentralized work of the foundation and created two permanent divisions of the corporation, one here and one at Carbondale. Each became autonomous in 1977.

A native of Mascoutah, the new SIUE Foundation president is a graduate of Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., where he met his wife, the former Betsy Keel. They have two children.

Edward G. Bedeian, 75, of East Moline, Ill., a brother of Mrs. Raham Mateosian of Granite City, died at 10:48 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 5, at Illinois Hospital, Silvis, Ill.

PRE-SCHOOL AND DAY CARE

The Lighter Side

By Cathey Jamison
Press-Record Feature Editor

Remember the good ol' days when you went cruising in your woody?

I remember the good old days. Gee, how depressing to have good old days to remember.

Remember when a foreign car was a novelty? My particular generation, the "Daddy comes home from World War II" babies, grew up at a time when everybody drove American.

Not everyone had TV, and nobody I knew had color. We had a 27 inch 1957. Everyone thought we were rich; most of the TVs had nine inch screens.

Remember dances like the twist, mashed potatoes and the swim? And who could forget the animal craze dances like the pony and the monkey. Boy, those were the days.

Britches looked painted on in 1962. If I could get a fingertip inside the waistband of my pants, they weren't tight enough. The "new" straight legged look was all the rage in '62.

The foran rock bands began to seek American audiences when I was a teenager. I remember when the Beatles first appeared on American television. It was on the Ed Sullivan show.

All sorts of clubs sprang up. Shouts of "Ban the Beatles" and "Down with the longhairs" began to be heard. No one wore long hair then, and certainly not the boys. It was all very shocking, even to some of us kids.

The neatest thing to own in those days was a '57 shaker

(a Chevrolet product) or a Woody (any station wagon with real wood trim).

A Woody was especially "cool" since the Beach Boys had made the vehicle a part of the surfing scene. And surfing was definitely cool.

Cruising the drive-in was the favorite pastime of teenagers (I understand that it is still done in some areas). The point of cruising was to see how much noise you could make going through the drive-in. No one ever actually stopped.

In 1965, there were two factions of teenage society, and these were always at odds. The "frats" (good students, athletes, and other assorted "oddballs") were on one side, and the greasers (everybody else) was on the other.

Things have changed, as they do for every generation. But for me, the magic years were from '57 to '65 when I was a pre-teen and teenager, and life was nothing but fun. Ah, yes, the good old days were something.

GC approves cab fare hike

An increase in Granite City taxicab fares which became a controversial issue in a dispute over the condition of equipment used by the city's only cab company, was passed unanimously by the City Council in regular meeting Tuesday night.

The 12 council members attending the session approved the ordinance on final passage after Chief of Police Ronald Veizer reported the Checker Cab Co. has made extensive repairs to its vehicles and that all seven cabs operated by the firm passed inspections at the city garage last week.

The ordinance raises cab fares by 35 cents across the board in the first five zones of travel. This will raise fares in the first zone from $1.15 to $1.50, from $1.40 to $1.75 in the second zone, $1.65 to $2 in the third zone, $1.90 to $2.25 in the fourth zone and $2.15 to $2.50 in the fifth zone.

Vernon McIntyre,

operator of the Checker Cab Co., appealed to the council for higher fares two months ago when gasoline prices began skyrocketing, noting that his drivers were unable to make a living wage because of inflation.

Council members agreed a fare increase should be granted, but because of complaints concerning the company's automotive equipment and complaints about conditions around the company's office on Rock Road at the railroad tracks, the ordinance was placed on first reading and McIntyre was told it would be placed on final passage if the cabs and office area were improved.

Veizer told the aldermen that the office quarters were cleaned up and that cabs had been repaired to meet city inspection demands. Veizer also told the aldermen that the company has met state insurance requirements.

SAM GIVENS, 16, of 3001 Iowa St., displays a lunker channel catfish caught by the youth at Johnny's Fishing Lake on crayfish bait. Young Givens caught two of the fish weighing a total of 12 pounds. One measured 23 inches and the other 25 inches.

GC ambulance collections best in history of service

The Granite City Ambulance Service came close to sustaining itself on its own income for the first time since it began operations in 1977, a monthly report given to the City Council Tuesday night shows.

The report shows $22,331 was collected during July, almost enough to pay the total salaries of all ambulance attendants and clerical personnel, which averages $22,990 per month. The amount collected in July was the most ever taken in by the ambulance service in one month, a spokesman said. Revenues for the service continue to climb as a backlog of insurance, public aid and Medicare cases is generating increasing income.

Better collection methods and improved billing also are credited for the increases.

In 1977, the ambulance service income averaged only about $7,000 per month. By July of 1978, that amount increased to about $13,000. The July figures this year are nearly $9,500 above the same month one year ago, the spokesman noted.

Collections also exceeded billing last month, according to the report. A total of $19,778 was billed to ambulance users during July while $22,331 was taken in. AAA Credit Service, which is used by the ambulance service for bills which cannot be collected by normal billing and office procedures, contributed $183 to the income of the ambulance service last month. Income from public aid and Medicare also exceeded new billings to those plans. Of the income for the month, $4,818 was from Illinois Public Aid (which was billed for $3,451 in new cases) and $6,740 was from Medicare (which was billed for $3,968). Another $1,282 was received in cases where Medicare and public aid paid jointly.

The city still had to "write-off" $2,452 in public aid cases, since public aid refuses to pay the normal fee for ambulance runs and state law protects the aid patients from responsibility for the remainder of the bill, the spokesman said.

There were a total of 335 ambulance runs made during July, the report concludes.

Bureaucrats block Illinois coal and other energy with red tape—Thompson

Governor James R. Thompson urged during the weekend that government, scientists, medical professionals and the energy industry take a "hard look" at federal environmental standards, their enforcement and their impact on the economy.

In a speech at a conference of the American College of Pathologists, in Lincolnshire, Ill., Thompson said:

"The American people are fed up with national leaders who talk in code about the energy crisis, who don't talk plainly about what needs to be done."

"If the criticized federal officials for failing to spell out the 'hard choices' the nation might have to make to 'strike a better balance between the ideal of a perfect environment and the realities of an industrial society."

"It's time we took a hard look at the evidence, our environmental standards are built on," Thompson said. "It's time we took a hard look at the economics of the course we're on, at how much we can achieve versus how much or economy and quality of life can afford to achieve."

"It's time we took a hard look at the nuts and bolts of how we go about enforcing our environmental laws and rules."

"It may well be that a new look at the facts will force us to make a new commitment to the ideals that underlie our environmental laws, that we'll be forced to say no, we can't go back, we can't take a break, we've got to go on."

"And we could then stop the code-talk and start getting ourselves out of the energy crisis some other way." Citing examples of what he termed "bureaucratic excesses" by the federal Environmental Protection Agency and Department of the Interior that discourage the use of coal, Thompson said: "Common sense tells me that a federal bureaucracy that's all that wrong on the enforcement side can't be all that right in setting the standards it's supposed to enforce."

He noted that federal EPA rules could hold up construction of a power plant for up to two years; that the agency demanded 48 pounds of paper be filed by Illinois "to provide we have an air quality improvement program," and that the Interior Department "took an 87-page strip mining law and wrapped 560 pages of red tape around it before dropping it on the industry and the states."

"We do need to question whether we can be sure we haven't come too far, whether we've carried our debate over environmental issues into extremes, whether it's time to stand back and take a measured, rational look at where we're going," Thompson said.

"From the agenda for this conference, it is apparent that you will be hearing much about the role of government in medicine and health care."

"I'd like to share with you some thoughts that have to do with another side of that issue, the potential role of medicine in helping government resolve one of the key issues before the American people: the issue of energy and the environment."

"Two weeks ago, the president once again launched us on a great debate over national energy policy."

"He proposed a new start... a new thrust... a new momentum toward making us more self-sufficient in finding the steam that drives our economic engine and determines the quality of our lives."

He issued a new call for sacrifice by the people. A new warning that hard choices must be made. A new push for us to set about finding a better balance between the ideals of a perfect environment and the realities of an industrial society."

"Two years ago, much the same message went up from the White House to Congress. The same thrust was called for. The same hard choices were at stake."

"But after two years of agonizing and handwringing on Capitol Hill, what emerged was something less. A lot less."

"Instead of a comprehensive energy conservation program, we got little more than a federal finger on our thermostats to fry us in the summer and freeze us in the winter."

"Instead of a rational allocation for scarce gasoline and heating oil stocks, we got a system that actually rewards states which have failed to curb their thirst in the past."

"Instead of a program to double coal production, we got a non-program that's putting miners out of work, miners who have tripped over more energy by accident than the Fed has produced on purpose."

"And, instead of a cold, hard look at environmental standards and red tape, we got business as usual. With a vengeance."

"It can still take eight years to get a permit to sink an oil well, or 750 pieces of paper to run a pipeline across three states' borders, or years of bureaucratic hoops and hurdles to build a factory or get a coal-fired power plant on line."

"Because we have failed to act, because we have ducked the hard choices... because we have chosen to turn our backs on reality... we are today importing more oil than when we started, and exporting more dollars and jobs and national pride than ever before."

"I think it's high time we stopped beating around the bush, and started beating the odds against us on energy."

The governor said, "We have come a long, long way from the days when we couldn't see across the street for the smog, when we couldn't catch a fish in our rivers, when we couldn't hang a sheet out to dry on a windy day."

"We don't want to go back to those days."

"But we do need to question whether we can be sure we haven't come too far, whether we've carried our debate over environmental issues into extremes, whether it's time to stand back and take a measured, rational look at where we're going."

"The first place to take that rational look should be at the bureaucracy. Even before we look beyond to what the bureaucracy is enforcing."

"Take the Clean Air Act, for example."

"Its purposes are pretty clearly spelled out in the law: to promote the public health and welfare, and to promote the productive capacity of the nation."

"The law says to look at both sides of the coin, not just 'heads.' It says to set standards based on solid evidence, not a wish and a prayer. It says to review those standards as new evidence comes in, not to etch them in stone."

"EPA sets its standards, and enforces them, on a 'worst case' basis. Every stack belching its blackest smoke in the worst possible weather. Never mind that those conditions happen only one or two or ten days a year. The rule is rigid. We can't burn 'dirtier' coal on 'cleaner' days."

"And the EPA believes computers know best. Each room had been searched and some items were moved from closets and drawers."

Initially, reported missing are $100 cash, a checkbook and payment book. An inventory was being taken to determine what else was stolen.

"The EPA makes it tough to experiment."

"Take the case of an energy company that thinks it has a workable coal gasification process but needs to test it for a year to get the bugs out. No go. Not unless its emissions meet EPA standards, even if it might mean a king's ransom would have to be invested in a one-time test that might turn sour."

"Perhaps most telling of all about EPA's own kindly attitude toward its own powers is the fact that it chooses simply to ignore a presidential directive issued over national television last April that it work with the Energy and Interior Departments to come up with a new strategy for promoting the use of coal."

"The 60-day deadline came and went. EPA and Interior sat silent. And the Energy Department coughed up little more than the same old rhetoric about the hard choices we face."

"Interior, incidentally, is the department that took an 87-page strip mining law and wrapped 560 pages—870,000 words—of red tape around it before dropping it on the industry and the states."

"That one hit especially close to home because the federal strip mine law is supposedly based on pioneering legislation passed years ago in Illinois, a law that worked for us here at far less cost than the 'new, improved' version the Fed has given back to us."

"These are the kinds of bureaucratic processes that give government a bad name, and 'give the business' to the economy for no apparent good reason."

"Common sense tells us it shouldn't take two years of bureaucratic roadblocks to get the go-ahead to build a new factory or power plant which means jobs, especially when it's the kind of plant we're talking about that could possibly upset its region's air quality. But that's what it can take. Two years. "Common sense tells us that Illinois shouldn't have to ship 48 pounds of paper off to EPA in Washington just to prove we have an air quality improvement program, but that's what we have to do. And they make us pay the postage."

"Common sense tells us there's something wrong with a bureaucracy that orders industry to use the 'best available' pollution control equipment but doesn't say what the best equipment is."

"Our economy is living with that, or in spite of it, a system of bureaucratic overkill that could be wiped out with an act of Congress off a desk of a president's pen."

"That's one more hard choice Congress or the President should be making, right now."

"I don't pretend to have the medical and scientific expertise to set the goals we should be moving toward in our quest for a safe environment."

"But common sense tells me that a federal bureaucracy that's all that wrong, all that over-zealous, in carrying out its mandate, on the enforcement side, can't be all that right in setting the standards it's supposed to enforce."

"It's high time that all of us... those of us in public life... those in the sciences, and medical professions... get together to take another look at what it is we're doing to ourselves and our economy."

Adopt a pet Saturday at Nameoki Village

The Association for Protection of Animals (APA) will hold a pet adoption Saturday at its temporary adoption shelter, located between Gasen Drugs and the Fabric Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Due to extremely high temperatures currently being experienced, the adoption clinic will take place from 9 a.m. until 12 noon Saturday, rather than the usual hours. JoAnn Riviere, APA's adoption supervisor, explained.

Among the pets to be offered for adoption are four mixed breed pit bulls and a month-old male part German Shepherd.

Each room had been searched and some items were moved from closets and drawers.

Initially, reported missing are $100 cash, a checkbook and payment book. An inventory was being taken to determine what else was stolen.

Grant to Lutheran high school

Metro-East Lutheran High School of Wood River has received a $1,000 grant for the 1979-80 school year.

The money is a gift from the Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL). It will be used for faculty members' graduate study, professional membership fees and subscriptions, and expenses related to curriculum development workshops for the entire faculty.

The grant is part of AAL's Lutheran High School Support System. The program is a way AAL helps Lutheran high schools. This year, AAL will grant $235,000 to 74 Lutheran high schools across the nation.

"People make some of the most significant decisions of their life during high school," said Arthur Kettner, administrator of AAL's high school grants. "Some students choose the partner they eventually will marry. Others make career or vocational decisions that will affect the rest of their lives."

"We support Lutheran high schools because we think they are good environments for young people to make conscientious decisions about their futures."

Metro-East Lutheran High School will begin its third year of operation on Aug. 27.

"Limited space for students seeking a quality Christian education is still available for students entering the tenth and eleventh grades. Metro-East Lutheran High School will accept students in good standing without regard for their race, color, sex or national origin," Principal William H. Ebel (259-7285) said.

Car is stopped, two arrested

A car containing four youths was stopped by Granite City police during the weekend and two of the occupants were arrested after police allegedly found 34 bottles of beer in the car, and a bag of cannabis which allegedly was owned by the driver.

Officers arrested William D. Roth, 17, of Florissant, Mo., on a charge of possession of cannabis and a charge of illegal transportation of liquor. Timothy Triplett, 19, also of Florissant, was charged with illegal possession of liquor.

Two boys, both 15, who also were in the car, were released without charges. Police said they stopped the car after observing it driving without lights around the Corral Liquor Store parking lot.

Tuned car moderately driven saves gasoline

Ease up on the accelerator and save more than $50 a year. Reduce unnecessary idling and save an additional $3.

That's the advice this summer from Illinois Bell, which operates the largest private fleet of motor vehicles in the state. The company needs nearly 8,000 cars and trucks to install and maintain telephone service in Illinois.

Ron Aldridge, division manager of automotive operations for Illinois Bell, said the Bell System is still achieving a five percent reduction in motor fuel use through an intensified program of vehicle maintenance and control.

Illinois Bell, which uses nearly seven million gallons of vehicle fuel annually, combines a computerized vehicle maintenance with employee sessions of driver education designed to reduce fuel consumption.

Operators of motor equipment throughout the Bell System, including Illinois Bell, are engaged in an advanced driving refresher course, called "The Driving Difference."

The system, with 180,000 vehicles, is the world's largest private motor fleet owner.

Motorists who do most of their driving under normal conditions can match or surpass the five percent savings figure, Aldridge said.

A combination of timely maintenance, the proper grade oil, and good driving habits can produce significant savings in fuel, he said.

He offered a list of driving tips and estimated annual savings in fuel and dollars. The figures are based on use of an average-size family sedan with power options, automatic transmission and air conditioning.

1. Avoiding sudden and rapid acceleration can save 60 gallons of gasoline or $56.40 at 94 cents a gallon.

2. Eliminating unnecessary idling can save 56 gallons, or $52.64.

3. Braking as little as possible and doing it gradually can save 60 gallons, or $56.40.

4. Driving 50 miles per hour instead of 60 can save 72 gallons, or $67.68.

5. Don't overload the vehicle. Avoiding a 500-pound overload on a regular basis can save 70 gallons, or $65.80.

6. Eliminate the habit of topping off the gas tank. Some of it will spill. Avoiding spills can add up to savings of 5 gallons, or $4.70.

7. Keeping tires properly inflated can save 60 gallons, or $56.40.

8. Keeping use of the car air conditioning to a minimum can save 66 gallons, or $62.04.

Following these hints can save 449 gallons of fuel annually or $422.06.

Aldridge has two more tips: Keep the engine well-tuned and use a fuel-efficient motor oil. Although he has no gas or dollar figures, Aldridge said these two measures are essential to efficient automotive performance.

He said these are conservative figures based on authoritative sources, such as the U.S. Department of Energy, U.S. Department of Transportation, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and American car manufacturers.

The calculations were made by Illinois Bell's parent company, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. They are based on a 1979 intermediate-size car equipped with a 305 cubic inch V-8 engine, automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes and air conditioning.

Illinois Bell is continually testing various fuels, lubricants, and vehicle maintenance procedures in a concentrated effort to become even more energy efficient.

WALLET IS FOUND

A Madison man brought Granite City police a wallet Monday he said he found along Highway 111 and officers are attempting to determine who owns it, since there was no identification inside. Police said the wallet contains less than $100. The owner may claim the wallet at the Granite City Police Building, officers said.

Disagreement ends in charges

Guy W. Carroll, 18, of 2732 National Ave., was charged with assault and criminal damage to property following incidents occurring early Tuesday morning at 2805 Willow Ave. [Danny Smith of that address and Robby Grimes, 2112 Forest Ave., said Carroll initially came to the dwelling with a woman and another man at 2:25 a.m. Tuesday and a disagreement started between Carroll and Grimes.]

A short time later, Carroll, who allegedly had a board in his hand, returned with another man and they stood at the front door yelling for Grimes and Smith to come out.

It was alleged threats were made and a window in the front door was broken.

An officer, who talked with Carroll and the woman some distance from the dwelling, was told Carroll had taken the woman to the house to get some clothing and was invited by Grimes and Smith to get out of his car and a fight ensued with Carroll being struck. He was advised to sign a complaint against his assailant.

At 3:35 a.m., however, police went back to the Smith home and saw Carroll and two others at the front door. One of the three, a 15-year-old youth, was charged with violating curfew regulations and Carroll was charged with assault and criminal damage.

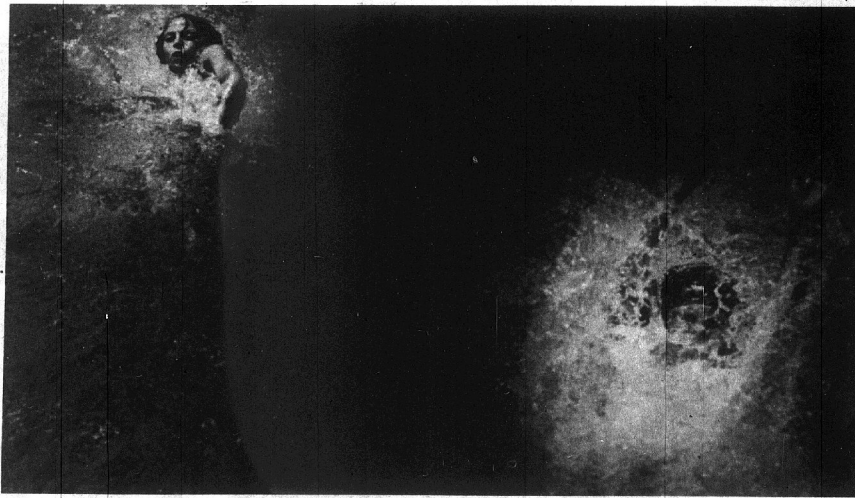

Arrest youths

Two youths have been charged with criminal damage to property for allegedly attempting to steal a street sign in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue early this week.

Witnesses told police the youths were trying to tear down a sign and when police arrived they alleged seeing the boys pushing and pulling the wooden sign post.

The post was very loose in the ground and the sign had been partially unscrewed from the post, police said. Arrested were Michael A. Clark, 19, of 2732 National Ave., and Timothy Anderson, 20, of 10 Nassau Court.

1981 completion for law building

Hiram Lesar, dean of the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale School of Law, dug in with fervor Saturday to break ground for the long-awaited law school building.

For Lesar, it marked the end of six years of work to find a permanent home for the fledgling school he has headed since its opening in 1973.

Currently housed in portions of three remodeled residence halls, the law school is expected to move into the new $7.6 million structure in the fall of 1981.

Although Student Bar Association President Jim Rodgers, a senior law student from Eldorado, said students sometimes doubted the project would ever get under way, Lesar said he never doubted the building would be constructed. "I felt all the time we'd get one. It just took more effort than we expected," Lesar commented.

About 100 persons attended the ceremonies and heard university officials praise legislators for their efforts in obtaining funds for the law school.

The officials also expressed optimism for a bright future. William Norwood, vice-charman of the SIU board of trustees, said, "We have a great law school and with your help it is going to be one of the greatest in the nation."

Construction of the building in the law school's last hurdle before receiving formal accreditation from the American Bar Association. The school has had provisional accreditation since February 1974.

The new building will contain 109,000 square feet of space for classrooms, offices, study and lounge areas and the law library. The structure will accommodate 400 to 450 students and 27 full-time faculty members—nearly double the present size.

DRAM SHOP SUIT

Steven B. McCoy has filed a $15,000 lawsuit in Madison County Circuit Court against Lewis J. Phillips, operator of Stieb's Tavern, 2422 Nameoki Road. The suit, filed under dram shop statutes, alleges the tavern was responsible for McCoy having been beaten by a patron July 29, 1978, in the establishment, since the patron who beat McCoy had been served intoxicating liquors.

Oct. 15 deadline for assessment reductions

The office of Granite City Township Tax Assessor Von DeCruze is gearing up for an influx of applications for real estate tax exemptions, but those wishing to have their applications processed rapidly are being requested to wait until the office is prepared.

Homeowners throughout the county have until Oct. 15 to renew their applications for up to $1,500 in real estate assessment relief under Senate Bill 1780, which took effect last year.

Thousands of residents took advantage of the exemptions to reduce their assessments for tax collections now underway. All single-family homes occupied by their owners are eligible for the exemption, which is designed to offset all or a portion of the effect of tax multipliers.

For example, if the 1977 "equalized" assessment of a $30,000 home was $10,000

(one-third of the market value), and the 1978 value jumped to $10,800, an exemption of $800 was allowed. The equalized assessment is after any local or state multipliers are applied.

Although specific guidelines are unclear at this point, local officials believe recent interpretations of the law will allow up to $1,500 in exemption for the 1979 tax year, no matter how much was granted in exemptions in the 1978 year, deputy assessors said Monday afternoon.

The original intent of Senate Bill 1780 was to allow up to $1,500 in total exemptions over a four-year period. However, recent indications are that the exemption may be extended in each of the four years, the deputies said.

It is necessary for homeowners to reapply each year in order to remain eligible for the tax relief, it was stressed.

Applications for the exemption are available at the assessor's office, 2000 Delmar Ave., but those who wish to apply are being asked to wait a few weeks until the township's tax records have been completed and submitted to Supervisor of Assessments James Barton. It will be announced in the Press-Record when the office is prepared to accept applications.

The applications list name, township of residence, the 15-digit parcel identification number, the owner's name on Jan. 1, 1979, and the seller, if sold since that date, and the previous assessed valuation.

If persons do not have those figures available to them, deputy assessors can aid homeowners in finding the figures and parcel identification number, it was explained.

March deadline for cities' bus subsidy

Collinsville Herald — Should Collinsville tax its citizens $200,000 a year to subsidize the Bi-State Transit system? That may be the dilemma handed Mayor Gene Bromblich and the City Council soon. There seems to be a March 1 deadline in the answer.

Bi-State took over all the bus systems in the metropolitan St. Louis area in 1963. Most of them were floundering financially, but they were still running and costing taxpayers nothing. Almost immediately, it became apparent that tax subsidies would be necessary. The system is now subsidized heavily by St. Louis County, the state of Missouri, the city of St. Louis and the state of Illinois.

The state subsidy has been 2-32 of one percent of the sales tax paid in the Bi-State area. By some legislative sleight-of-hand, Senator Vadala has been able to swing this although some other cities, such as Decatur, get only 1-32 and must supplement it with a local tax.

In the session which closed June 30, Sam was able to maneuver a 3-32 subsidy through, because Bi-State needed more money. The legislators from that area assured him that he would have to show a local supplement next year or kiss the state subsidy goodbye.

Bi-State has set a March deadline on commitments from its governmental money-bags.

The subject has been discussed in gloomy terms by the Southwestern Council of Mayors.

The mayor of Alorton, when told that cities might be asked to tax themselves, suggested that was like giving mayors the knife with which to cut their own throats.

Sixteen years ago, the bus companies operated with no tax assistance and paid their expenses including taxes, from farebox revenues. Farebox revenues today don't come close to paying the bill.

Of the estimated $11.5 million to operate the Illinois services in 1979, only about $2 million will come from farebox receipts. The 3-32 sales tax receipts allocated to Illinois this year are expected to produce about $8 million, close to enough to cover the rest of the cost.

If it drops back to 2-32 next year, the area served will be expected to come up with about $1 million or $1.2

million to supplement the state tax.

Various proposals have been suggested. A fairly simple one would be for the county boards of Madison, Monroe and St. Clair to impose some kind of new tax to produce the money.

It is unlikely their boards will be enthusiastic about that since many of them are elected from areas not served by Bi-State. Taxes aren't popular, anyway.

Another suggested scheme would be to ask each municipality to tax itself to produce an amount in proportion to numbers served.

The bulk of the Illinois riders come from Belleville, East St. Louis, Washington Park and Granite City.

The mayor has begun a campaign to sell a new tax for Bi-State subsidy to his constituents. It is unlikely that the 30 communities affected will act in concert by March 1.

At some point, Bi-State will ask each community to tax itself to supplement it with a local tax.

At some point, Bi-State will ask each community to tax itself to supplement it with a local tax. Bromblich said he has never been approached with the proposition of subsidizing Bi-State, although he was present when it was discussed at the Southwestern Council of Mayors July 25, and there was a questionnaire three or four weeks ago.

"I would never say the need is not there," he said, "but to ask the communities to subsidize a thing that just keeps growing — Bi-State is a very controversial, emotional subject."

He said he wouldn't want Collinsville to subsidize if the other communities did not do so, too.

Man charged hitch-hiking

Robert E. Young, 25, of 3801 Lake Drive, Lot 314, Pontoon Beach, was charged with hitchhiking at 6:25 a.m. Tuesday, after an officer alleged seeing him in the northbound traffic lanes of the 2200 block of Madison Avenue.

The man allegedly refused to identify himself, both on the street and at police headquarters, by showing a driver's license he had in his possession.

Necessary force was used to remove the license from him at the station, police said.

The notice must include the word "copyright" or the symbol (c), the year of first publication, and the name of the owner of the copyright. The notice must be placed on the work in a conspicuous location, such as the title page.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, a copyright is a type of protection granted by federal law which covers the creative works of individuals.

The owner of a copyright is granted certain exclusive rights (with some limitations), such as the right to:

1. Reproduce the copyrighted work in copies or phonograph records.
2. Prepare derivative works (adaptations) based upon the copyrighted work.
3. Distribute copies to the public by sale or other transfer of ownership.
4. Perform the copyrighted work publicly; and
5. Display the copyrighted work publicly.

Copyright protection extends to original works of authorship (published or unpublished) which include literary, musical, artistic, dramatic and other types of intellectual works.

Copyright protection does not extend to such things as ideas, procedures, concepts or discoveries.

Nor does it prevent the use by others of the ideas or information contained in an author's work. Copyright extends only to the form in which ideas or concepts are expressed.

Generally, copyright in a work created after Jan. 1, 1978, starts from its creation (when it is written for the first time) and lasts for a term consisting of the life of the author and fifty years after the author's death.

For works made for hire, anonymous works, and works under an assumed name, the term is 75 years for publication or 100 years from creation, whichever is shorter.

ILLINOIS RIVER POLLUTED BY FARMS

Dr. Richard E. Sparks of the Illinois Natural History Survey's Aquatic Biology Section says current farm practices, such as fall plowing, continuous row-cropping, channelization, and clearing of fence rows and grass waterways, are probable causes of recent increases in sedimentation rates in the Illinois River. Being his remarks on 85 years of Natural History Survey research, Sparks said last week that unless the input of sediment from farms is curbed, there is little prospect for improvement in the fisheries, wildlife, recreation or aesthetic appeal of the river.

Drop indictment against attorney

THOMAS E. SCHWAGER.

Charges against Attorney Charles I. Weitzman, 34, of 2945 Madison Ave., have been dismissed in Madison County Circuit Court on the motion of the state's attorney's office.

Weitzman was charged with communicating with a witness in a rape case and with conspiracy and solicitation to commit communication with a witness.

He was indicted by a Madison County grand jury Feb. 15, after the grand jury heard testimony from the 21-year-old rape victim who alleged Ronald Eldred Baker, 38, Steelville, Mo., had offered her $500 to give Weitzman a deposition saying that she had consented to relations with the man accused of raping her. She agreed to the plan, records indicate.

In the official court file, the victim is quoted as having said of her meetings with Weitzman, "Everytime I would mention money...he would say he wasn't involved; he didn't want to hear about it."

Baker is the stepfather of John L. Ishum, 20, of 2223 Fourteenth St. Baker still is under indictment for conspiracy to commit communicating with a witness.

Ishum was arrested in September on a warrant alleging rape in an Aug. 25 home invasion case and he eventually pleaded guilty to aggravated battery in return for a three-year-prison sentence.

In dismissing the charges against Weitzman, the judge also granted motions by Ishum's attorneys dismissing the aggravated battery and rape charges. Circuit Judge Francis E. Maxwell of Washington County handled the case when Madison County Judges disqualified themselves.

Judge Maxwell was asked to dismiss the charges against Weitzman on the recommendation of Assistant State's Attorneys J. Lawrence Keshner and Robert E. L. Trone who filed a motion with the court asking that since the Feb. 15 grand jury indictment, statements and evidence "indicate the defendant (Weitzman) did not actively participate in the activity...but merely had suspicion of the same, and that no formal court action was taken or requested by the defendant after (his) suspicion had been aroused."

It also states that "further prosecution or pursuit of this cause would be abusive in view of the subsequent evidence that had been obtained."

Weitzman has continually expressed his innocence in the case and pleaded innocent when he was arraigned. He was represented by Attorney Donald L. Groshong, who was quoted as saying the dismissal of the charges is an indication "that the system does work."

Youth hurt in disturbance

John Kite, 17, of 3612 Kirkpatrick Homes, was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 2 a.m. Tuesday for injuries sustained in a disturbance near his home.

Kite suffered cuts to the front of his head and the left arm after allegedly being struck with a four-foot-long metal pipe, which police said was wielded by Jeff Perryman, 21, of 3607 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Police arrived at the Kite home at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday in response to a call that a fight was in progress.

Officers said they were called to that block on two earlier occasions when reports were received that loud music was being played.

Kite was found bleeding from the head, lying on the living room floor, and an ambulance was called. Witnesses alleged the youth had been struck by Perryman, police said.

Perryman, his wife, April Perryman, and two friends had been sitting on the front porch at the Perrymans' apartment before the incident occurred, police learned.

A metal pipe was found by officers in a field, about 100 feet from the Perrymans' front door.

At the hospital, Kite said he had been standing at the screen door to his home when Mrs. Perryman began cursing him and told him to come into the front yard.

When he did so, Kite alleged Perryman walked toward him carrying the metal pipe and made a threatening remark.

Kite said he grabbed a broomstick handle and a fight began in the yard at 3611 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Although Kite was struck several times, he failed to hit Perryman with the broom handle, he said.

Police later learned that Kite's father, Homer Kite, also was struck by the metal pipe.

Perryman was charged with two counts of battery. Officers charged Mrs. Perryman, 19, with disorderly conduct when she allegedly became abusive and refused to stop cursing the Kite family.

Revised "Regulations to Govern the Use, Administration and Navigation of the Ohio and Mississippi River above Cairo, Ill., and Their Tributaries," restrict areas at locks and dams.

All waters immediately above and below each dam, as posted by the respective district engineers, have been designated as restricted areas. No vessel or other floating craft may enter any such restricted area at any time.

The limits of the restricted areas at each dam are determined by the district engineer and marked by signs and/or flashing red lights installed in conspicuous and appropriate places.

Under provisions of the regulation, restricted areas have been established at all St. Louis District locks and dams (Lock and Dam Nos. 24, 25, 26, 27 and Kaskaskia).

The restricted areas extend from the centerline of the dam, 600 feet upstream and 100 feet downstream.

The restricted areas have previously been marked by flashing red lights and/or illuminated signs. In an effort to further emphasize and delineate restricted areas, buoys with "Boats - Keep Out" lettering and uniform waterways marking symbols will soon be placed 600 feet upstream of the dam at Locks and Dam No. 26, on a trial basis.

Restricted areas have been established in an attempt to warn and exclude pleasure craft from entering dangerous waters in the vicinity of the dam. It is imperative that pleasure craft operators adhere to these restrictions in order to insure safe operation of their boats, and to minimize probability of loss of property and injury.

James A. Peterson, chief of Operations Division, St. Louis Engineer District, said this week.

Tax replaced; important not to add excessive burden

Both Illinois taxpayers and government officials are breathing easier, now that the seemingly impossible task of replacing the corporate personal property tax has been accomplished.

Perfection was not attained, but overwhelming majorities of 155-12 and 45-9 were tallied Monday in approving the terms of an amendatory veto.

The 2½ percent personal income tax remains the same, and the corporate tax rises from 4 to 6.85 percent retroactive to July 1, destined to decline to 6.5 percent as of Jan. 1, 1981.

Estimates are that it will produce $521 million in fiscal 1979-80 and $677 million by 1981.

No one knows what the outlived CPPT would have generated this year. The amount provided as its replacement is intended to meet some of the revenue needs of schools and other local-level governmental agencies while at the same time not overbalancing the traditional 8-5 corporate-individual state income tax ratio. To alter the ratio beyond what was required to offset the CPPT would have jeopardized the constitutionality of the replacement tax.

A court test will be sought quickly to verify that the new tax is legal and that it can be collected without further delay or uncertainty. Any taxing bodies will proceed with their yearly budgeting, somewhat more confident of what funds will be available.

As noted, nobody knows how much money should have been provided as a replacement. The method also was left vague by the 1970 Illinois Constitution, other than specifying that the money should come from the same sources that paid the corporate personal property tax.

Time and time again, General Assembly sessions brought up the issue and failed to reach agreement. Even after the deadline for action had arrived, legislators failed to act, sure in their belief that judges would allow the old tax to continue until the Assembly replaced it. Much to their surprise, the Illinois Supreme Court (sprung of the tax after the 1978 year (overturn of 1979 collection) and they had to develop some mutually agreeable formula this summer.

Some wanted to add 3.5 or 3 percent, and others favored 2.25 or 2.5. The 2.85-and-2.5 compromise resulted in the new law.

In communities like the Quad-Cities, where there is extensive industrial equipment, the impact of loss of the corporate personal tax is great. In areas relying primarily on real estate taxes. (The individual personal property tax was eliminated previously.)

It is charged that on July 28, the four allegedly 20-year-old Missouri man who was being held in connection with the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was charged in federal court with the assassination of Dr. King.

The meeting was called to order by the organizing president, Mrs. Ralph A. Wilson. The welcome to the new society was given by Dr. Donald L. Worley of Belleville, who is organizing a Sons of the American Revolution chapter for the area and presently is serving as Missouri's state treasurer for SAR. Outdoor setting best for concerts

By CATHEY JAMISON of the Press-Record

As an avid concert goer, I have seen the difference in the three major facilities in the St. Louis area. The following is a review of the two most recently visited.

I attended the Doobie Brothers concert at the Mississippi River Festival and the Mississippi River Festival and the Mississippi River Festival.

The BeeGees concert at the Checkerboard. Both shows drew crowds near or over 20,000.

The Mississippi River Festival is located on the SIUE campus. It is easily accessible from several directions. The Checkerboard is located in St. Louis on Oakland Avenue of Highway 40. It is also easy to get to.

MRF is an open air, outdoor facility, with acres of grass and trees. The stage is nestled in a natural bowl. There is always a breeze blowing through the trees. It is a beautiful place. One must walk, sometimes a long way, through the park-like surroundings to get to the outdoor amphitheater.

The Checkerboard is a huge building, surrounded by a concrete wall and a highway right out front. It is air conditioned. One must walk from the parking area and go through tunnels and up and down stairs to get to the seats.

Both facilities have good sound. Both have good stage visibility. But attending a concert at the Checkerboard gives one a sense of being driven, like a herd of cattle. Access to the building is difficult for a large crowd. At the BeeGees concert I felt like a sardine, the entrances were packed so tightly. It is easier to enter MRF.

The smog level at the Checkerboard is often uncomfortable. With all of the smoke, the eyes water and it becomes difficult to breathe. The MRF is out-of-doors, and the smoke dissipates naturally.

Let's face it. There is a possibility for some kind of violence in any place where 20,000 people gather. I am of the belief that some facilities simply get more publicity than others when an incident occurs.

I, for one, will opt for MRF. The possibility of trouble aside, I would rather enjoy a concert under the stars, or even in a rainstorm, than be in a gigantic, smoke-filled room.

Orville Barr funeral Tuesday

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Orville H. Barr, 65, of Lincoln, Ill., a native of Venice, who died of an apparent heart attack at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 4. Mr. Barr left Venice about 25 years ago, moving to Elmhurst, Ill.

Later, he moved to Lincoln where he owned and operated Barr's Ace Hardware from 1970 to 1972. He then formed the Barr Home Construction Co. of which he was owner.

He and his wife, the former Lorraine Gilmore, were married Nov. 23, 1935, in Granite City. Mrs. Barr survives.

Also surviving are two sons, Daniel O. Barr of Germantown, Wis., and John P. Barr of Lincoln; three daughters, Elaine Ansley and Rita Horton, both of Lincoln, and Lorraine Penoughly of Belleville; three sisters, Beulah Stanton of Granite City, Mildred Achor of Madison and Sylvia Woodard of Steelville, Mo.; and 12 grandchildren.

Mr. Barr's parents were the late Harvey and Mary Hendrickson Barr of Venice. Services were held at Holy Family Catholic Church in Lincoln, with burial at Holy Cross Cemetery there.

Cable TV firm expands area

A revision of the financing structure of the South Western Cable TV, Inc., which has contracted with Granite City to provide cable television service here, is being made to accommodate an expanding area which the company expects to serve, the City Council was informed Tuesday night.

At the same time, Mayor Paul Schuler told council members that he had conferred with G.J. Kazma, president of the company, and was informed that installation work is expected to get under way late next month or in early October and that the first television programs should be broadcast, probably in the downtown area, in late January or early February.

The aldermen were told that the television area involved in cable TV installation now includes Granite City, Edwardsville, Collinsville, Maryville and Pontoon Beach, and is expected to include the city of Belleville and "many other municipalities," the company said in a communication to the council. As a result, the notice said, the company is broadening its financial and operating base "to accommodate our growing commitments."

Under the new structural outline, all of the issued and outstanding shares in the capital stock of the franchise will be owned by K-Right Communications, Inc., a Delaware corporation.

The voting participating shares in the capital stock of K-Right Communications shall include 50 percent by Countryside Cable TV, control of which is held by G.J. Kazma, and 50 percent by Cablenet Limited, a Canadian company which is a subsidiary of another Canadian company, Agra Industries Limited, according to the notice.

DETOURS TOMORROW

Bi-State buses (314-773-1120) operating on 6th Street from Market to Locust, and on Olive from 9th to Broadway, will be detoured Friday evening because of the downtown St. Louis block party. The changes will be in effect from 6 p.m. until 12 midnight.

JIGSAW PUZZLE, ANYONE? Only neatly-severed pieces of a practice car remain after Granite City firemen finish demonstrating extrication procedures for a class of future paramedics from Wood River Township Hospital. Captain George Moran, instructor of the rescue class Wednesday morning, was assisted by firemen Greg Becker, Tim Connolly and Jim Pyle. The rear window of the auto was the first item to be removed. The steering wheel was pulled upward through the windshield, which had been removed, to free a make-believe victim. The front seat was moved toward the rear of the car to allow more working room up front. Supporting roof columns were then sheared, using the Hurst tool at lower right, and the roof was peeled back.

LAWSON TEACHERS

REVISOR BY STATE Governor James R. Thompson has approved two bills which alter certain restrictions placed on teachers in Illinois. The first item, House Bill 1679, allows teachers (except in the City of Chicago) to live outside the district in which they teach.

Senate Bill 375 makes it possible for those teachers who have a vested right to retirement benefits to retire at an earlier age without penalty.

Hughes sentenced

Tommy L. Hughes, 22, of the 2700 block of Roosevelt Ave., has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to serve six months in prison after pleading guilty to battery.

It is alleged Hughes was involved in a disturbance May 27 and when police arrived, Patrolman Bill Curtis was kicked in the shins. Hughes was charged with aggravated battery, but the felony was dismissed in return for the guilty plea.

Associate Judge Philip J. Harick pronounced sentence.

Quad-City goings-on . . .

THE AMERICAN WEST was represented as part of the weekend's activities. The Trailriders Saddle Club sponsored a competition for area horsemen. It was a sight to see, even if you have never ridden or been around a horse, and maybe more so. One small boy cried, "It's a rodeo!" when he saw all of the riders dressed in their colorful western garb.

THE DANCERS and spectators filled the street in front of the Community Center as they enjoyed the festivities at the Lincoln Place celebration.

from the American West ... to the Old Country

One of the things that may not be said about the Quad-Cities is that there is nothing to do. Last weekend's various events were typical of the many goings-on in this area.

Ethnic foods, music, dancing and even a horse show were among the bill of fare at different places around town.

If you took in the horse show Saturday night, sponsored by the Trailriders Saddle Club, you were transported in part back to the American West.

To the members and participants, being dressed in western gear, sitting atop a well bred horse, was nothing new. But if you have never seen such a thing, it is quite a thrill.

There were three divisions in the halting class, plus ladies' gaited country pleasure competition and an open English pleasure event at the show. Riders and animals alike were at their best and their performance was exciting to watch.

If horse shows were not to your liking, there was the fall festival at Polish Hall, also held on Saturday. Barbecued pork steaks, chicken and hamburgers were on the menu and there was dancing and fun for young and old alike.

Vince's Internationals provided the music and the people danced. Polkas and other ethnic dances were favored. The St. Stanislaus Lodge of Madison sponsored the event.

People gathered early in the day, with the bulk of the crowd arriving near sunset. They came to have fun and see their friends and neighbors. The festival was held outdoors, with food being served inside and tables set up everywhere.

There are strong ethnic ties in the Quad-City area and the public loves to attend gatherings such as the fall festival. It is a time to renew old friendships and learn of the new things in the community.

There is a strong sense of family at these kinds of outings. And whether you are of the people who are celebrating or are just visiting, you are made to feel like one of the family.

On Sunday, there was the Lincoln Place neighborhood picnic and homecoming celebration, put on by the Lincoln Athletic Club's board of directors in cooperation with Harold Brown, superintendent of Granite City parks and recreation. Mayor Paul Schuler and the City Council of Granite City.

It was indeed a day of homecoming, with residents and former residents of Lincoln Place gathering to enjoy what the community had to offer.

The event, which was held at the Park District Community Center, 822 Niedringhaus Ave., was a street festival.

Here, too, the food was ethnic, with several organizations furnishing their own special fare.

The Armenians provided shish kebabs and baklava and there were Mexican delicacies such as tacos, tortillas and tamales, thanks to the Mexican Club. Sts. Cyril and Method Church had zelink and gyros for sale.

The Vince Debevc band provided music and again the polka and other ethnic dances were preferred by the people.

We are indeed a community of many peoples and a wide range of interests.

The activities that take place here cater to those interests, which—at least this weekend—took Americans from the Old West to the Old Country, and back again.

Can the Inter-City League survive 1979?

By TOM SCHOCKER
for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The making of a baseball team takes time. The success of that team depends largely on its management and organization. The making of a baseball league also takes time. The success of that league depends solely on its management and organization.

Once a league has established itself, what factors will guarantee its success and existence? The Illinois Inter-City Baseball League has the right combination of good management and organization that are needed to be successful — or does it?

From the league's beginning back in 1930, the Inter-City has enjoyed the fulfillment of a dream that has lasted five decades. With the start of the 1980 season the league will celebrate its 50th anniversary. The achievement of this record is remarkable, things couldn't possibly go wrong — but things have.

The main concern of league officials and some of the coaches is the lack of competition. "The competition just isn't there," said league Vice-President Earl Schardan. The withdrawal of Mercer's from the league last year cut the number of really dominant teams in half. Last year saw a dog and cat fight between Mercer's and Music Room Vans for league supremacy. The absence of Mercers has left the dominating force with the Vans.

The Vans posted a 21-3 record this season and clinched the top spot, but Music Room's head coach Jim Blackledge believes competition is not the only reason for a down hill slump in the league. "I think it's a matter of management and organization," said

Blackledge. "I haven't done anything special with my team. I just make sure they are on time for the game and that we have umpires."

So you're in a slump. What do you do to correct it? Change your style or maybe try a new bat to help the situation?

In the case of the Inter-

City League, changes definitely need to be made. "We hope to get two more new teams from this area next year," said league President Dan Sheehan, at this point the Inter-City is operating with a one-division, six-team league.

In addition to the Music Room Vans, the remainder of the league includes Collinsville, Mitchell, Athletic Club, the Maryville Red Sox, the Wood River Brewers and the East Alton Indians.

"The league has gone backwards in the past five or six years," said Sheehan. "It's the first time in 43 years that a Granite City team has not been in the league." On the average the league has run on eight to ten teams and mostly with twelve. "I think at one time the league had 14 teams," he said.

According to Vice-President Schardan, the teams to be recruited might come from Granite City and Highland. "If we get some teams to come back in," said Schardan, "I don't anticipate too much trouble." Another general concern to the problem in the league is the right sponsor. "If you can't look like a team," said Mitchell Athletic Club head coach Ken Crawford, "you can't play like a team."

Hopefully, the addition of new teams will prove beneficial for the Inter-City League. "I don't know what next year will bring," said Sheehan, "our January meeting will find out just where we stand."

Midgets invade Tri-City Speedway

By JEFF EAVES
for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The St. Louis Auto Racing Association midgets invaded the Tri-City Speedway last night with a big field of 29 cars. Kenny Schrader of Ballwin, Mo., set the quick time of 24.343 seconds on the half mile.

Barry Butterworth the "Down Under" driver from Auckland, New Zealand, won the trophy dash over Schrader, Dean Shirley of Middletown, Ill., and Danny Frye Jr. of St. Charles, Mo., veteran USAC driver and all time midget winner Bob Wente of Normandy, Mo., won the first heat over Schrader, Shirley and Duke DeRosa of Springfield, Ill.

Danny Frye Jr. won the second heat over Don Bachlund of Kansas City, Kan., Arnie Knepper of Belleville, Ill., and Don Boorse of Milwaukee, Wis. Butterworth won the third heat over Buster Linn of Mendota, Ill., Tony Weyant of Springfield, Ill., and Gary Hayes of Glenwood, Mo.

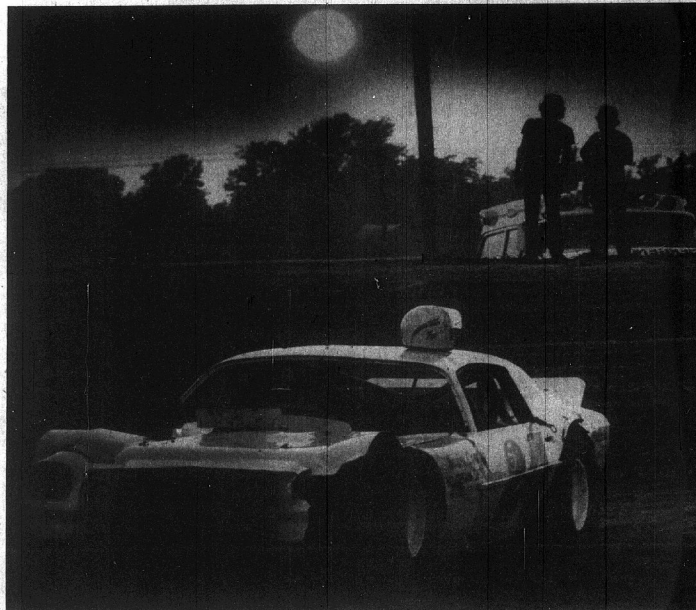

Indianapolis 500 drivers Johnny Parsons Jr. of Speedway, Ind., won the semi, over Bachlund, Nick Gomerick of Belleville, Larry Mullendore of Cahokia, Ill., and Gary Dillard of St. Louis, Mo.

The 20-lap feature event was a dandy one. Bob Wente jumped in front for 6 laps before retiring then Arnie Krepper took over but was also put out cause of an accident and then Dean Shirley took over.

Johnny Parsons Jr. started dead last in the 18-car field and worked his way up to record on lap 9. On lap 17 Gary Byers of Logans Port, Ind., flipped his car in turn 3 but was only shaken but he was okay.

On the restart a wheel to wheel action between Shirley and Parsons and on the last lap Shirley passed Parsons down low in turn one, then Parsons would run Shirley in turn two leading in the backstretch but Shirley again passed Parsons low in turn 3 and Parsons won over Shirley coming out of turn 4 and Parsons won over (Continued on Page 27)

Wojcik trying to find 'who's in shape and who's not ...'

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Ah, football. Blanket covered spectators watching as another long pass splits a crisp autumn night.

Seems long past and longer still to arrive again when the remembering is done in the dog-day heat of early August.

But these long passes and open field runs are the result of preparation, and that preparation, heat or not, is about to begin.

For Stan Wojcik and the Granite City South Warriors football team, or what will become the Warriors, it begins in less than a week. Next Wednesday to be precise.

This is the time when coaches, despite their much proclaimed cautious optimism, must feel their way through their swelled rosters, in hopes of finding the missing ingredients.

For Wojcik, that means finding the elements to improve a mildly successful 5-4 record of a year ago. But that comes later. For the moment the concerns are more immediate. Like finding out how much or how little his prospective players prepared on their own this summer.

"At the beginning," Wojcik said, "we'll be trying to find who's in shape and who's not. You can't just start getting ready for the season in August any more, you've got to work all summer."

"Those who aren't in shape, we'll have to work harder with them to help them catch up with the others."

In order to find out just where he stands, Wojcik will conduct daily two-session practices. That is, a morning practice in full gear and evening sessions with helmets, shoulder pads, and shorts.

"We do this for the first four or five days to work out the aches and pains," Wojcik said.

Hopefully, the aches and pains will be few. Wojcik said many of those players who will begin the great Wednesday have been preparing for the season for some time.

"I think the attitude is excellent," he said. "We've had out gym open this summer and we've had a good turnout. I think everyone is really looking forward to getting started."

After the initial shaping-up period is completed, the Warriors will begin to refine their football skills. And the first priority along these lines will be in what Wojcik calls the skill positions—running backs, receivers, and quarterbacks.

"We'll start at those positions and work from there," Wojcik said.

According to Wojcik, there will be plenty of raw material to work with in these areas. "We seem to have an abundance of running backs and receivers. More than we usually do. It's really unbelievable for us."

Wojcik said his squad should be about equally divided among returning players and underclassmen. In the first few weeks the aim of the practices will be to review the system and acquaint new players.

"We don't want to push too hard at first," Wojcik said. "We want to give the new kids a chance to absorb the information."

As for the cautious optimism, "If these kids work hard we can get pretty far. We can be as good as they want to be."

Sugar and spice?

GRANITE CITY — Sugar and spice and everything nice, that's what little girls are made of...

That may well be true, but you couldn't tell it here Tuesday night when the G&G Car Wash softball team met the Pontoon Beach Lions Club in a High School Girls Softball League game at Wilson Park.

The game was just one of hundreds just like it that take place annually during the summer at three sites in Granite City — Wilson, Worthen and West Granite Parks. The games involve men and women, boys and girls, of all ages — from the Junior High School Girls League to the Junior Poole 35 and Over Men's League.

But here Tuesday, it was the High School Girls. And you'd have thought it was the seventh game of the World Series. First G&G took the lead. Then Pontoon Beach went ahead on a home run by B.J. Lybarger who was swamped at home plate by jubilant teammates. Then G&G tyed the score in the last inning before winning it 6-4 in the first extra frame.

The girls even have their own cheerleaders — themselves. The teams sit on the bench and shout organized cheers, just like those heard at high school events.

The score of the game probably won't be remembered a week from now. It's only one of what seems like a multitude of games. But the enthusiasm will be. It's there every game.

Economy appointed Job's Daughters active Madison commissioner at state Guardian meeting

Andrew F. "Andy" Economy, 32, lifelong resident of Madison, was appointed Tuesday night by Madison Mayor Mike Sanyk to the city's Board of Police Commissioners.

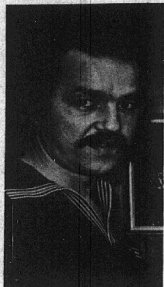

The appointment, made during the Tuesday night City Council meeting, was approved unanimously.

The appointment is until April 30, 1980, replacing the late Joseph Besserman. Commissioner Economy is a partner in Lee & Andy's Sewing Service, 1330 Madison Ave., Madison.

Active in civic affairs, he is past president of the Madison Lions, member of Madison Amvets Post 204, member Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and has played an active role in support of Explorer Post 10-4 activities.

He is currently president of the Madison Volunteer Fire Department. Madison City Attorney Casper S. Nighoghossian informed the council that prior to the council meeting the police commissioners met and accepted the resignation of Madison Police Sergeant Richard Krieshok.

The resignation was made by Krieshok effective April 1, 1978, which, according to Madison Chief of Police Donald Bridick, was the day Krieshok was suspended from the department.

ANDREW ECONOMY

Krieshok was convicted on July 6, 1978, by a federal jury on charges of racketeering and perjury. The conviction is currently being appealed. According to Nighoghossian, Krieshok agreed to make the resignation retroactive if the board would terminate the hearings. Nighoghossian said Krieshok's action would save the city the expense of a full scale hearing and should Krieshok win his appeal, on the federal conviction, it would protect his pension.

Nineteen members and ten adults of Bethel 43, International Order of Job's Daughters, took part in the supreme session of the Supreme Guardian Council, held in Springfield Aug. 1-5.

The convention was attended by over 3,000 members and adults from the United States, Canada and the Philippines.

Mrs. Delores Johnson, supreme guardian and past queen and guardian of Illinois, and Wallace O'Brian, associate supreme guardian and past grand guardian of Michigan, presided over the week's events.

Activities that Bethel 43 members participated in were a Saddle Gap Tramp, which included stag coach rides, live entertainment and a western style lunch; the Welcome to Lincolnland Jamboree, in which the girls performed a play; and supreme chair competition. Gena Fox, Lea Ann Baker, Kathy Bronsman, Teri Roberson, Jeanie Holt, Patty Crider, Beth Knight, Shelle Knight, Theresa Layer, Mary Metcalf, Hope Lee, Rhonda Baker, Jennifer Benoit, Susan Beasley, Lisa Jones, Cathy Sandall, Melissa Travis and Suzy Sandall competed in the chair competition and earned a third-place trophy.

In formal opening ceremonies, Gena Fox, honored queen, and Kathy Bronsman, junior princess, participated in the formation of a living cross by all honored queens and princesses in attendance.

Miss Fox served as an escort for Granite City's Edward Lane, most illustrious grand master of the Grand Council of Royal and Select Masters of the State of Illinois, who was seated in the East.

Beth Knight, Shelle Knight, Patty Grider, Suzy Sandall and Cathy Sandall performed with the supreme choir in opening ceremonies. They sang in the Illinois State Choir, which performed at a business meeting of the Supreme Guardian Council and at the Job's Daughters luncheon.

Miss Bronsman and Miss

Fox also sang in the Illinois state choir.

At a concluding church service by Job's Daughters, Gena Fox gave a sermonette, "Tuning In."

Business 'coping' conference Oct. 3

"Can your Business Cope with Government in the '80's?" is theme of a series of 20 regional conferences scheduled throughout Illinois in September and October. Sponsored by the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce and local chambers, the meetings are designed to help employers prepare for the major concerns facing business in the next decade. Included will be a 7:30 a.m. breakfast Wednesday, Oct. 3 at the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

Topics to be discussed include energy needs, environmental controls, taxes, government spending, consumerism, transportation, product liability, workers' compensation, unemployment insurance and political involvement. Speakers will be Lester W.

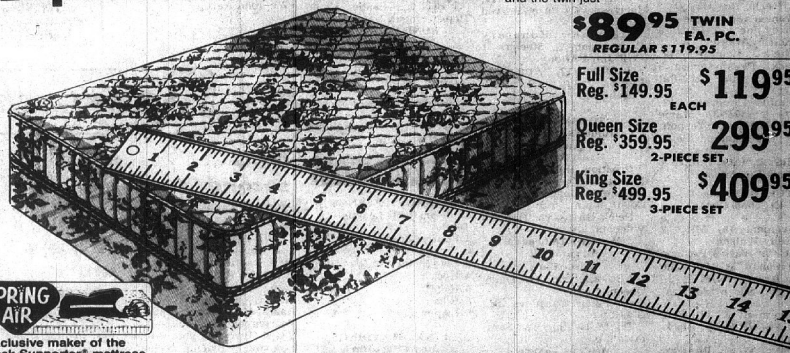

Bram Jr., State Chamber president; W. Paul Neal Jr., ISCC legislative manager; and James H. Beaumont, ISCC government regulations manager and executive director of the Illinois Political Action Committee.

Hope to reach more with nutrition data and food aid

New rules by the U.S. Department of Agriculture require states to tell more people about the special supplemental food program for women, infants and children (WIC).

The regulations carry out provisions of the Child

Nutrition Amendments of 1978 which authorized funds to extend the WIC program by getting food assistance to areas and individuals most in need and emphasizing nutrition education.

"To use these increased funds effectively, we must set high standards for program management and for the quality of service provided," Assistant Secretary Carol Tucker Foreman said. "The new rules will help improve the health and nutritional knowledge of eligible women and children."

The WIC program provides supplemental food and nutrition education to pregnant and breastfeeding women and to children under age five. Local health clinics prescribe the supplemental foods for individual participants.

Public Law 95-627 requires the department to develop special procedures for reaching migrants and other mobile segments of the population.

Under the new rules, participants who move to another area may continue to receive benefits if there are openings at the new program site. If no openings are available, they will be given priority on the waiting list.

The regulations establish performance standards, and spell out sanctions that will be applied when states do not meet those standards. These standards include numerical state agency staffing levels, as well as standards for food delivery, financial management and certification procedures.

The new regulations strengthen and expand nutrition education requirements. For instance, a state must spend the equivalent of one-sixth of its WIC administrative funds for nutrition education.

Charge youths

Police stopped the driver of a southbound auto in the 1800 block of Madison Avenue at 11 p.m. Thursday and arrested the occupants, Keith E. Garrett, 17, of 808 Madison St., Madison, and James W. Garrett, 18, of 1206 College St., Venice.

A purple bag, hanging from the gear shift lever, allegedly contained four packets of cannabis and two packets of cigarette papers. A plastic bag, also holding cannabis, allegedly was found in the glove compartment.

Police alleged that open and unopened cans of beer were inside the vehicle.

Keith Garrett was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis and illegal transportation of liquor. James Garrett was charged with illegal possession of liquor.

STEAL MOTORCYCLE

The $1,500 Honda 750 motorcycle of Harry J. Adams, 271 Sunny Shores Mobile Home Park, on West Chain of Rocks Road, was stolen from the outside of his home during the weekend. He said he heard vehicles around his mobile home about 4:30 in the morning, but did not investigate. When he awoke later that morning, the cycle was gone.

Wasteful loading at refinery—EPA

The Midwest Office of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has taken action to bring about cleanup of air pollution at Shell Oil Company's facility in Wood River.

Sandra S. Gardebring, director of the Enforcement Division, EPA Region V, has issued to Shell a 30-day notice of violation for hydrocarbon emissions into the surrounding air.

A gasoline loading rack allegedly emits over 102 tons of hydrocarbons per year. The allowed hydrocarbon emissions under the regulation are 37 tons per year. EPA estimates that the escaping vapors represent a loss of 25,000 gallons of gasoline per year.

The regulation involved is part of the Illinois State Implementation Plan developed for the attainment and maintenance of air quality standards and approved by the federal government. The Notice of Violation was issued under Section 113 of the Clean Air Act.

Shell Oil will have an opportunity to confer with EPA and present information on the nature of the violation and on any efforts taken to correct the problem.

Under the Clean Air Act, if the violation continues beyond the 30th day of the notice, EPA may issue a compliance order or it may initiate civil or criminal actions.

Seek to prevent emotional illness

The SIUE School of Nursing has received a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health to support a new senior elective seminar for a three-year period and an annual symposium, according to Patricia Forni, dean. Grant funds for the first year will be $21,181.

The seminar and symposium will focus on prevention in community mental health nursing (NHS 500). It will examine mental health problems of target populations in southern Illinois. Participants will develop, implement and evaluate programs to help reduce the incidence of new cases of mental disorders. The symposium will allow people working in community mental health to share their ideas concerning current practices. "We hope people in community agencies will share their knowledge with one another," according to Mary Ann Birkbaum, assistant professor.

In the past, there has been little support for preventive measures in mental health care, she said. Most funding has gone for treatment and follow-up.

"We've been working with sick people. Perhaps, we can now work on ways to prevent mental illness," Prof. Birkbaum said.

Who gets invited to network tapings?

By THOM MEAD

Q. When they have the "Battle of the Sexes" and "Battle of the Network Stars," I always see spectators looking on. How do they find out when the event is, where the event's at and how to get tickets?

A. Also, how did those people in the audience of the third Barry Manilow special get their tickets and how did they find out about it? I know they didn't publicize it. — T.B., Livermore, Calif.

A. There are no set procedures for attracting an audience to a special taping of a "Battle of the ..." show or a musical special. The procedure varies for each show and depends on the kind of audience desired for the particular taping.

Since tapings of such sports-oriented programs as the ones you mentioned occur primarily in Southern California — usually one of the colleges or universities in Southern California — the audience is drawn locally.

Sometimes the general public is invited to attend through newspaper advertisements. Such invitations may be restricted to only students from the particular campus. On other occasions, the audience may be composed of friends of the stars, production crew or network.

Getting to watch the taping of a television music special like the Manilow show is another matter.

Normally, these are "invitation-only" tapings because of limited seating arrangements. And the audience is tailored to the particular singer-star.

In the case of the Manilow taping, Arista Records, his label, provided large blocks of invitations to various rock radio stations in Southern California. The radio stations, in turn, each distributed the invitations.

KHJ radio in Los Angeles, for instance, ran a telephone contest, with "Caller number ..." receiving two tickets to the taping. Sometimes, various fan clubs of the particular star receive invitations.

If you are interested in a taping, I suggest you watch your local newspaper's entertainment section for any advance announcement of a special by a particular star. Such announcements usually carry something about when the special will be taped.

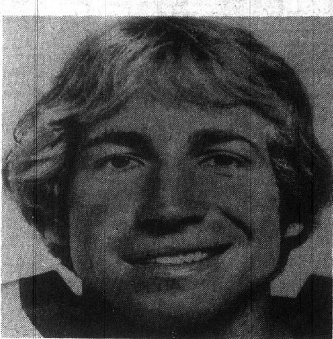

I would write both the network and record company involved asking about tickets. You may find yourself in the front row of the next Manilow special.

Q. If a songwriter sends a song on a tape to Kenny Rogers, Paul Anka or another performer, what is the chance that it will be heard by the performer or a member of his staff? — J.P., Cortland, Ohio

A. I'm told by representatives of Rogers and Anka and various record companies that your chances are not very good. Big-name singers are literally swamped with songs from songwriters.

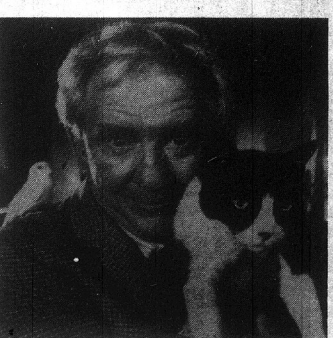

"They could spend their full time listening to new music and that's impossible," said one record official.

SUNDAY

One of the young stars of the New York Jets, quarterback Richard Todd, will be in action when NBC Sports telecasts a pre-season football contest, Jets vs. the Oilers, Aug. 12.

WEDNESDAY

Burgess Meredith is the neighbor of a model in a apartment house in which a series of terrifying incidents occur, in "The Sentinel," on "NBC Movie of the Week," Aug. 15. (REPEAT)

Colonial era films

On Friday, Aug. 10, two films made at Colonial Williamsburg will be shown at Fort de Chartres State Historic Site beginning at 8:30 p.m., four miles West of Prairie du Rocher on Illinois 155.
The first movie, "Gunsmith of Williamsburg," records the work of Wallace Gussler as he manufactures a 17th flintlock rifle. Using pig iron, scraps of brass and maple wood, he builds a rifle which is functional as well as a work of art.
"Colonial Clothing 1760-1770" is the title of the second film. The movie deals with the attire of men, women, children and servants. There is no admission charge.
On Sunday, Aug. 12, Tom Faslter of Anna, Ill., will bring the crew of wine making to Fort de Chartres.

Stamps, coins at flea market

The Land of Lincoln Coin Club of Granite City will sponsor a flea market, combined with a stamps, coins and craft show, at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues, Sunday.
William Daiger, club president, invited the public to attend, saying Sunday's event will start at 9 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.
Anyone interested in coins and stamps also may attend a meeting of the Land of Lincoln Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 14, the officer said.
Club members meet on a regular monthly basis at the Nameoki center.

Arrest 4 at fight scene

Called to the 2600 block of Circle Drive in reference to a fight over a motorcycle at 1:40 p.m. Thursday, police arrested four youths and confiscated a shotgun from one.

Police said Lindel G.
Simpson, 18, of 2569 Circle
Drive, was riding a dirt bike
when Marvin A. Pellazari, 17, of 727 Twenty-Sixth St., objected to the way it was being ridden and allegedly knocked Simpson from the machine.

A fight ensued between the two, with Darrell W.
Pellazari, 17, of 727 Twenty-Sixth St., also fighting with Simpson, it was alleged.

At this point, Simpson allegedly went home, came back with a 12 gauge shotgun and fired the weapon three times.

Both Pellazaris, Simpson and a 16-year-old youth still were arguing and using foul language when officers arrived at the scene, it was alleged.

The weapon was confiscated from Simpson's home and the quartet was taken to police headquarters.

Simpson was charged with disorderly conduct and discharging a firearm within the city limits. He was released on payment of a $70
cash bond.

Darrell Pellazari was charged with fighting and released on notice to appear at a later date.

Marvin Pellazari and the juvenile were charged with disorderly conduct and were released on payment of $35
cash bonds.

BICYCLIST STRUCK

Mrs. Rose Mary Geroff, 29, of 3316 Johnson Road, was injured during the weekend
when her bicycle and a car collided. She went to St.
Elizabeth Medical Center
where she was treated for swelling to top of her left foot, pain to her left elbow and an abrasion to her left leg. X-rays were taken and she was released.

REVOLVER STOLEN

A .38 caliber revolver was all that was known missing in a break-in at the home of Clarence Sadler, 1103 Logan
St., Venice. It was reported to Venice police during the weekend. A window was broken to gain entry.

... AND WOMEN!

Now that our doors are open for business, RE/MAX is looking for very special professional sales agents to join our team. We're not just another real estate company... we're the largest 100% commission company in North America. In fact, RE/MAX is larger than all other 100% commission companies combined. Our growth is the result of our acceptance by the real estate industry because we offer some very unique and unusual benefits to our agents such as the opportunity to substantially increase income through our 100% commission concept program.

All inquiries will be handled confidentially

RE/MAX
OF GRANITE CITY
Independent Member Broker

RE/MAX agents retain 100% of their sales commission and in return, they pay monthly expenses of operating their office. Across the country, statistics show that RE/MAX agents retain 80-92% of their total commissions after expenses. There are many other benefits such as the freedom to develop your investment portfolio with no commission to the company — and our agents have a voice in the management of their office. There's a whole lot more in store for a RE/MAX agent, and if any of this sounds appealing to you — stop by and hear the whole story. If you can't drop by, give us a call.
